Today's Readings

First Reading (Isaiah 6:1-2a,3-8)

In the year King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord seated on a high and lofty throne, with the train of his garment filling the temple. Seraphim were stationed above. They cried one to the other, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts! All the earth is filled with his glory!" At the sound of that cry, the frame of the door shook and the house was filled with smoke. Then I said, "Woe is me, I am doomed! For I am a man of unclean lips, living among a people of unclean lips; yet my eyes have seen the King, the Lord of Hosts!" Then one of the seraphim flew to me, holding an ember that he had taken with tongs from the altar. He touched my mouth with it, and said, "See, now that this has touched your lips, your wickedness is removed, your sin purged." Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, "Whom shall I send? Who will go for us?" "Here I am," I said; "send me!"

Psalm (Psalm 138:1-2,2-3,4-5,7-8)

R. In the sight of the angels I will sing your praises, Lord.

I will give thanks to you, O Lord, with all my heart, for you have heard the words of my mouth; in the presence of the angels I will sing your praise; I will worship at your holy temple and give thanks to your name.

R. In the sight of the angels I will sing your praises, Lord.

Because of your kindness and your truth; for you have made great above all things your name and your promise. When I called, you answered me; you built up strength within me.

R. In the sight of the angels I will sing your praises, Lord.

All the kings of the earth shall give thanks to you, O Lord, when they hear the words of your mouth; and they shall sing of the ways of the Lord: "Great is the glory of the Lord."

R. In the sight of the angels I will sing your praises, Lord.

Your right hand saves me. The Lord will complete what he has done for me; your kindness, O Lord, endures forever; forsake not the work of your hands.

Second Reading (1 Corinthians 15:1-11,15:3-8,11)

(I am reminding you,) brothers and sisters, (of the gospel I preached to you, which you indeed received and in which you also stand. Through it you are also being saved, if you hold fast to the word I preached to you, unless you believed in vain. For I handed on to you as of first importance what I also received: that Christ dies for our sins in accordance with the Scriptures; that he was buried; that he was raised on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures; that he appeared to Cephas, then to the Twelve. After that, he appeared to more than five hundred brothers at once, most of whom are still living, though some have fallen asleep. After that he appeared to James, then to all the apostles. Last of all, as to one born abnormally, he appeared to me. (For I am the least of the apostles, not fit to be called an apostle because I persecuted the church of God. But by the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace to me has not been ineffective. Indeed, I have toiled harder than all of them; not I, however, but the grace of God that is with me.) Therefore, whether it be I or they, so we preach and so you believed.

Gospel (Luke 5:1-11)

While the crowd was pressing in on Jesus and listening to the word of God, he was standing by the Lake of Gennesaret. He saw two boats there alongside the lake; the fishermen had disembarked and were washing their nets. Getting into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, he asked him to put out a short distance from the shore. Then he sat down and taught the crowds from the boat. After he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, "Put out into deep water and lower your nets for a catch." Simon said in reply, "Master, we have worked hard all night and have caught nothing, but at your command I will lower the nets." When they had done this, they caught a great number of fish and their nets were tearing. They signaled to their partners in the other boat to come to help them. They came and filled both boats so that the boats were in danger of sinking. When Simon Peter saw this, he fell at the knees of Jesus and said, "Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man." For astonishment at the catch of fish they had made seized him and all those with him, and likewise James and John, the sons of Zebedee, who were partners of Simon. Jesus said to Simon. "Do not be afraid; from now on you will be catching me." When they brought their boats to the shore, they left everything and followed him.

Gospel Reflection

Today's episode of the Gospel passage takes place on the Lake of Gennesaret. Jesus asks Peter to put out his boat a little off the ground, sits down and begins to teach the people. Jesus sits down means he assumes the position of a teacher and the boat represents the Christian community here.

On the orders of the Master, the disciples cast their nets to fish. Simon Peter, an experienced fisherman expresses his doubt of fishing there but obeys Jesus. Thereby Peter becomes the first person who manifests his faith in Jesus. In spite of risk involved in trusting Jesus' word, Peter decided to go ahead with the plan of lowering the net for a catch. Peter has an earlier experience of Jesus' power when he healed his mother-in-law (Lk 4:38-39).

The result of lowering the net was amazing and the immediate reactions of disciples were that of the children of the expected kingdom of God. Simon Peter falls at the knees of Jesus and declares his own unworthiness: "Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man."

We have several scripture references how important personalities of the Old Testament encountered Yahweh. When God disclosed who he is, Moses hid his face, because he was afraid to look at God (Ex 3:6); When Elijah heard a gentle whisper after the fire, he pulled his cloak over his face (1 K 19:13). We listened to the first reading what Isaiah did. Today Peter also feels sinful not because he is immoral, but realizes the unworthiness to stand before the Lord.

By his confession, Simon and the other apostles were empowered for a mission and appointed "fishers of men". Humanity is always prey to powers of evil and the mission of the church is to liberate people from this situation. There are persons who have given up everything to continue the ministry of Jesus, "they left everything and followed him". Their call and their abandonment are not their work, but come from the choice of God. Though Simon Peter like others confessed their unworthiness, God called them, transformed them and enabled them to carry out his mission on earth.
