Today's Readings

First Reading (Ecclesiastes 1:2, 2:21-23)

Vanity of vanities, says Qoheleth, vanity of vanities! All things are vanity! Here is one who has labored with wisdom and knowledge and skill, and yet to another who has not labored over it, he must leave property. This also is vanity and a great misfortune. For what profit comes to man from all the toil and anxiety of heart with which he has labored under the sun? All his days sorrow and grief are his occupation; even at night his mind is not at rest. This also is vanity.

Psalm (Psalm 90:3-4, 5-6, 12-13, 14 and 17)

R. If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

You turn man back to dust, saying, "Return, O children of men." For a thousand years in your sight are as yesterday, now that it is past, or as a watch of the night.

R. If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

You make an end of them in their sleep; the next morning they are like the changing grass, which at dawn springs up anew, but by evening wilts and fades.

R. If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

Teach us to number our days aright, that we may gain wisdom of heart. Return, O Lord! How long? Have pity on your servants!

R. If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

Fill us at daybreak with your kindness, that we may shout for joy and gladness all our days. And may the gracious care of the Lord our God be ours; prosper the work of our hands for us! Prosper the work of our hands!

Second Reading (Colossians 3:1-5, 9-11)

Brothers and sisters: If you were raised with Christ, seek what is above, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God. Think of what is above, not of what is on earth. For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. When Christ your life appears, then you too will appear with him in glory. Put to death, then, the parts of you that are earthly: immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and the greed that is idolatry. Stop lying to one another, since you have taken off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed, for knowledge, in the image of its creator. Here there is not Greek and Jew, circumcision and uncircumcision, barbarian, Scythian, slave, free; but Christ is all and in all.

Gospel (Luke 12:13-21)

Someone in the crowd said to Jesus, "Teacher, tell my brother to share the inheritance with me." He replied to him, "Friend, who appointed me as your judge and arbitrator?" Then he said to the crowd, "Take care to guard against all greed, for though one may be rich, one's life does not consist of possessions." Then he told them a parable. "There was a rich man whose land produced a bountiful harvest. He asked himself, 'What shall I do, for I do not have space to store my harvest?' And he said, 'This is what I shall do: I shall tear down my barns and build larger ones. There I shall store all my grain and other goods and I shall say to myself, "Now as for you, you have so many good things stored up for many years, rest, eat, drink, be merry!" But God said to him, 'You fool, this night your life will be demanded of you; and the things you have prepared, to whom will they belong?' Thus will it be for all who store up treasure for themselves but are not rich in what matters to God."

Gospel Reflection

The common theme of today's scripture readings is about one's greed to accumulate wealth and to possess power.

The Jewish rabbis were often called to settle disputes among people of their community. They judged cases using the Mosaic Law namely Deut 21:15-17, 27:1-11 and Num 27:1-11. The disagreements always arise when one forgets a basic truth that the goods of this world do not belong to us but to God and we are only the custodians. Here Jesus does not contempt the accumulation of material goods but superiority is given to eternal inheritance. "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven" (Mt 5:3) and "Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth. (Mt 5:5). St. Peter will say "... into an inheritance that can never perish, spoil or fade. This inheritance is kept in heaven for you". (1 Pt 1:4). To clarify his thought Jesus tells the parable of the Rich Fool.

There are three characters in this parable: God, the rich man and goods. The rich man thinks of himself as if he has no family: wife, children, relatives, neighbors and workers. Of course, he has all of them. He lives among the people, but he does not see them. He is only interested in his properties, crops and storage. He uses fourteen words of himself like "I" and "mine". Everything is his; only he and his property exist. Therefore, he is foolish.

And suddenly the third character appears—God who, that very night, asks him an account of his life. The judgment of God is heavy and impartial. Jesus neither speaks wealth as something bad nor condemns it. He never asks anyone to throw it away, but he warns against the serious dangers that it hides.

At the end of the parable, the mistake made by the rich farmer is indicated. He is not condemned because it has produced many goods, worked hard, was committed, but because "he has amassed for himself" and "has not enriched himself in the sight of God" The important Jewish religious activities are prayer, fasting, and alms-giving. Blessed with an excellent harvest, the rich landowner forgot the act of alms giving. Instead of thanking God and sharing with the hungry, he planned to give himself - "rest, eat, drink, be merry!"
