Today's Readings

First Reading (Amos 7:12-15)

Amaziah, priest of Bethel, said to Amos, "Off with you, visionary, flee to the land of Judah! There earn your bread by prophesying, but never again prophesy in Bethel; for it is the king's sanctuary and a royal temple." Amos answered Amaziah, "I was no prophet, nor have I belonged to a company of prophets; I was a shepherd and a dresser of sycamore. The Lord took me from following the flock, and said to me, Go, prophesy to my people Israel."

Psalm (Psalm 85:9-10, 11-12, 13-14)

R. Lord, let us see your kindness, and grant us your salvation.

I will hear what God proclaims; the Lord—for He proclaims peace. Near indeed is His salvation to those who fear Him, glory dwelling in our land.

R. Lord, let us see your kindness, and grant us your salvation.

Kindness and truth shall meet; justice and peace shall kiss. Truth shall spring out of the earth, and justice shall look down from heaven.

R. Lord, let us see your kindness, and grant us your salvation.

The Lord Himself will give His benefits; our land shall yield its increase. Justice shall walk before Him, and prepare the way of His steps.

R. Lord, let us see your kindness, and grant us your salvation.

Second Reading (Ephesians 1:3-14)

Blessed be the God and Father our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us in Christ with every spiritual blessing in the heavens, as He chose us in Him, before the foundation of the world, to be holy and without blemish before Him. In love He destined us for adoption to Himself through Jesus Christ, in accord with the favor of His will, for the praise of the glory of His grace that He granted us in the beloved. In Him we have redemption by His blood, the forgiveness of transgressions, in accord with the riches of His grace that He lavished upon us. In all wisdom and insight, He has made known to us the mystery of His will in accord with His favor that He set forth in Him as a plan for the fullness of times, to sum up all things in Christ, in heaven and on earth.

In Him we were also chosen, destined in accord with the purpose of the One who accomplishes all things according to the intention of His will, so that we might exist for the praise of His glory, we who first hoped in Christ. In Him you also, who have heard the word of truth, the Gospel of your salvation, and have believed in Him, were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, which is the first installment of our inheritance toward redemption as God's possession, to the praise of His glory.

Gospel (Mark 6:7-13)

Jesus summoned the Twelve and began to send them out two by two and gave them authority over unclean spirits. He instructed them to take nothing for the journey but a walking stick—no food, no sack, no money in their belts. They were, however, to wear sandals but not a second tunic. He said to them, "Wherever you enter a house, stay there until you leave. Whatever place does not welcome you or listen to you, leave there and shake the dust of your feet in testimony against them." So they went off and preached repentance. The Twelve drove out many demons, and they anointed with oil many who were sick and cured them.

Gospel Reflection

Today's readings remind us of our Divine adoption as God's children and of our call to preach the Good News of Jesus by bearing witness to God's love, mercy, and salvation, as revealed through Jesus: "God chose us in Christ before the foundation of the world." (Ephesians 1:4).

The readings also bring home three aspects of vocation.

- Vocation is a free gift of God. Amos was a shepherd and a dresser of sycamore tree. Yet God called him to be a prophet. The Ephesians are told that they are chosen even before the foundation of the world. The apostles are called by Jesus not because of their merit but according to the plan of God.
- Vocation is a human response: Amos responded to Yahweh's call and preached to the people of Bethel. The Ephesians after listening to the Gospel believed in God and began to live a life in the holy Spirit. The Apostles responded to Jesus's call and left everything and followed him.
- Vocation is an ongoing process. Vocation is not a static reality but dynamic phenomenon. It is always a call to continuous growth in intimacy with God and mission.
