TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading (Exodus 19:2-6a)

In those days, the Israelites came to the desert of Sinai and pitched camp. While Israel was encamped here in front of the mountain, Moses went up the mountain to God. Then the LORD called to him and said, "Thus shall you say to the house of Jacob; tell the Israelites: You have seen for yourselves how I treated the Egyptians and how I bore you up on eagle wings and brought you here to myself. Therefore, if you hearken to my voice and keep my covenant, you shall be my special possession, dearer to me than all other people, though all the earth is mine. You shall be to me a kingdom of priests, a holy nation."

Psalm (100:1-2,3,5)

R. We are his people, the sheep of his flock.

Sing joyfully to the LORD, all you lands; serve the LORD with gladness; come before him with joyful song.

R. We are his people, the sheep of his flock.

Know that the LORD is God; he made us, his we are; his people, the flock he tends.

R. We are his people, the sheep of his flock.

The LORD is good: his kindness endures forever, and his faithfulness to all generations.

R. We are his people, the sheep of his flock.

Second Reading (Romans 5:6-11)

Brothers and sisters: Christ, while we were still helpless, yet died at the appointed time for the ungodly. Indeed, only with difficulty does one die for a just person, though perhaps for a good person one might even find courage to die. But God proves his love for us in that while we were still sinners Christ died for us. How much more then, since we are now justified by his blood, will we be saved through him from the wrath. Indeed, if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, how much more, once reconciled, will we be saved by his life. Not only that, but we also boast of God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received reconciliation.

Gospel (Matthew 9:36-10:8)

At the sight of the crowds, Jesus' heart was moved with pity for them because they were troubled and abandoned, like sheep without a shepherd. Then he said to his disciples, "The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few; so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest." Then he summoned his twelve disciples and gave them authority over unclean spirits to drive them out and to cure every disease and every illness. The names of the twelve apostles are these: first, Simon called Peter, and his brother Andrew; James, the son of Zebedee, and his brother John; Philip and Bartholomew, Thomas and Matthew the tax collector; James, the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddeus; Simon from Cana, and Judas Iscariot who betrayed him. Jesus sent out these twelve after instructing them thus, "Do not go into pagan territory or enter a Samaritan town. Go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. As you go, make this proclamation: 'The kingdom of heaven is at hand.' Cure the sick, raise the dead, cleanse lepers, drive out demons. Without cost you have received; without cost you are to give."

Gospel Reflection

Moved by the sight of the crowd Jesus declared "The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few". Today the number of priests, religious and faithful are in constant decline. So, the answer is obvious: 'Pray to the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest'.

The twelve apostles Jesus called, represent the whole people of God. Therefore, every disciple is called for a mission in the world. Whatever be our state of life whether married or single, learned or ignorant, strong or weak, poor or rich, sick or healthy; everyone has been called to involve in the building of the Kingdom of God. The prayer is not to convince God, but to change the human heart. Jesus asks us to pray because only in prayer we can assimilate the sentiments of God. Then he gives them the authority to drive out evil spirits and to heal the sick. The authority that Jesus confers is not on people but over evil. It is the extraordinary power of His Word, which can destroy evil and create a new world because the devil and sickness symbolize all that is opposed to human life—physical, spiritual, emotional and psychological.

Jesus was the first worker sent into the world to proclaim the Good News. As his time approached to return to where he was, he chose his disciples to continue his mission. "The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Cure the sick, raise the dead, cleanse lepers, drive out demons".

Continued

The passage concludes with the instruction, "without cost you have received; without cost you are to give". It is a demand for complete detachment from any form of self-interest in the performance of their apostolic action. His disciple should not work for personal profit but for the profit of the people and His Kingdom. Our only reward will be the joy of having served and loved our brothers and sisters.
